

Message from the Chapter President

Welcome to a new academic year full of opportunity and excitement with The Triple Helix. This journal marks the fifth edition of The Science in Society Review in Cambridge, showcasing the work of an ever-expanding team of student writers, editors and academic reviewers.

We are delighted to invite you to our Science in Society lecture series of panel debates, where policy-makers and academics answer your questions on important issues. This will be launched on Monday, 13th October, when we ask our celebrated panel "Who Wants to Live Forever?".

Also coming up is our successful outreach programme, which takes issues to school students, and our preparations for attending several international conferences later this year. For all these fantastic opportunities, I would like to thank our members for their enthusiasm, dedication and energy. Come, find out more and get involved!

Best wishes,
Hannah Price

800th Anniversary Issue

Inspired by the success of this termly journal, TTH has been awarded a special grant to produce a limited edition magazine, commemorating Cambridge's 800th Anniversary.

This high-impact, high-quality magazine will have a circulation of 11,000 copies, to be distributed around Cambridge, at anniversary events and to alumni internationally. It will celebrate Cambridge's great scientific contributions to society, and look forward to where current research might lead.

Don't miss this opportunity to see your work everywhere. If you are interested in writing, editing, producing or taking photographs for this unique project, email managingeditor800@camtriplehelix.com for more information.
